Lexington, and that he has taken charge of the will receive prompt attention. same.

April 9, 1860-w&twtf.

The House has recently undergone a thorough renovation; the rooms are newly and neatly fur-nished; and still further improvements will be made to render it in all respects worthy of pub-lic paironage, and an agreeable nome to those who may avail themselves of its privileges.

Intending to devote his own time and attention to the business, and to surround himself with com petent assistants, togother with faithful, polite and attentive servants, he gives the assurance t the public that no offorts on his part shall be wanting to make the old Phoenix in all respects worthy of its reputation in its palmiest days.

Professions, however, are too easily and too frequently made to be of much value unless accom panied by corresponding acts, and he, therefore, only asks that the public may test the sincerity of his pledges by giving him a call. They will always find him ready to minister to their comforts ways find him ready to manner in his power.
